HOUSE PASSES

MAJOR PRICE SUPPORTS

Poage Disapproves

The House passed a bill Wednesday night extending major government price supports through 1970. The lawmakers also approved an amendment sponsored by Massachusetts Republican Silvio Conte limiting payments to individual farms to $20,000 a year.

House Agriculture Committee Chairman W. R. Poage denounced the Conte agreement as "A good piece of demagoguery."

But a majority of the House went along with arguments that farm subsidies originally intended to help small family farms have degenerated into a windfall for "fat cat operations." But it appeared certain that a Senate-House conference committee will knock out the subsidy ceiling.

MEMBER OF 'TOYKO RAIDERS' IS COMMAND CHIEF OF STAFF

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, (SSNS)-- One of the last members of World War II's famed "Tokyo Raiders" still on active duty has been named chief of staff for United States Air Force Security Service. Col. James H. Macia Jr. succeeds Col. Kenneth W. Holbert, who retired yesterday after more than 27 years military service.

Under the command of Lt. Col. James H. Doolittle, Colonel Macia, then a first lieutenant, was a B-25 crew member on the April 18, 1942, air raid against Tokyo and other Japanese industrial centers.

Colonel Macia comes to the command headquarters from Frankfurt, Germany, where he commanded the European Security Region for two years. Prior to July 1966, he had served as region deputy commander since June 1964.

In 1942, Colonel Macia volunteered to become a member of the (cont'd in next col) select group to make the initial strike against the Japanese mainland.

Sixteen B-25s, taking off from the aircraft carrier "Hornet" were involved in the operation and this group would soon come to be known as the "Tokyo Raiders."

After completing two additional combat tours in Europe, and just after the Japanese surrendered, Colonel Macia requested release from active duty and returned to his home in Tucson. He was recalled to active duty in March 1951.

Colonel Macia was first assigned to USAFSS in August 1961 when he joined the command headquarters at Kelly as deputy chief of staff for Operations.

Eleven South Vietnamese and seven Communists were killed in the attacks.

U.S. military spokesmen said there was no definite sign the guerrilla attacks were part of the coming Communist offensive.

GASOLINE TANK EXPLODES AT FT WORTH: 32 HURT

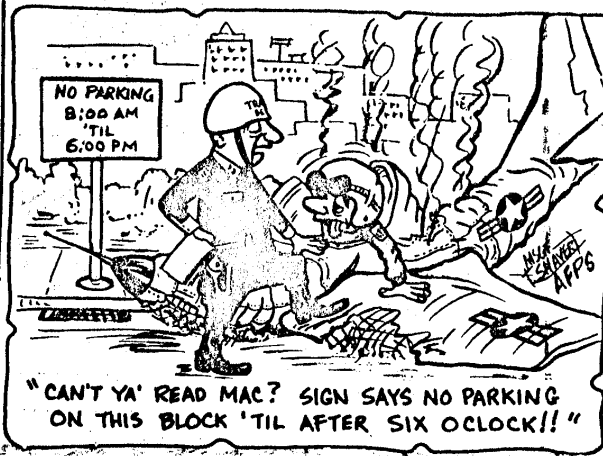

Thirty-two persons were injured Wednesday night when a 5,000-gallon gasoline tank exploded at a Ft Worth Texas service station. At least four of the injured were reported in grave condition early yesterday.

The blast sent a fireball, estimated to be about 200 feet in diameter, into the air.

The explosion was believed to have resulted from a small fire that started an hour earlier from a leak as a tank truck pumped fuel into the station's tank.

COMMUNICATIONS SECURITY

How does an alert enemy construct an accurate picture of our classified activities? Only in rare instances is he lucky enough to catch someone discussing obviously classified information.
More often than not he must reconstruct the classified picture from the bits and pieces of unclassified information readily available.

Topics which we are all too willing to discuss over the phone can be analysed, collated and molded into a piece of strategic information.

What pieces are you providing for the enemy's classified picture?

Don't save time at the expense of security -- Use written correspondence whenever possible.

Many of the 70,000 Vietnam era veterans now returning from service each month have job skills needed by Federal, State and local government agencies as well as by private industry. The remainder, through G.I. Bill education and training and other veteran benefit programs, can acquire skills and experience that will qualify them for future employment.

The Luge Sled, which drew a great deal of attention in the Winter Olympics, is similar to those used by children, except that it is longer, heavier and has no steering mechanism or brake. The driver lies nearly flat and controls speed and direction by shifting body weight and gripping leather reins.

"IS THIS CALL NECESSARY?"

Cost reduction involves little things as well as big ones. For example, several service calls for minor maintenance are made each year for each family housing unit. The cost of each of these calls is approximately $_____. One less call per year, per family housing unit could save $_____ per year.

The Air Force maintains 160,000 on-base family housing units. The cost of the average minor maintenance service call to one of these units is approximately $4.00. One less call per year per unit could save $600,000. No. 46 age under 170 will be 66-2/3. Entry fee will be 30 cents. Sign up at the Bowling Lanes.

Don't Ignore Water Conservation

Recently, there has been a series of articles in the Mystic Lamp and Daily Bulletin dealing with Station Regulation 85-1 'Ground Maintenance.' Part of the publicity dealt with the times of the day that lawns were not to be watered.

The regulation states that lawns will not be watered from noon to 5 p.m. and from (cont'd page 4, col 1)

(WATERING LAWNS Contd)

10 p.m. to 6 a.m. Apparently the notices were largely ignored all over the station.

The cooperation of all personnel is sought in helping to conserve utilities.

Turn off the sprinklers during the afternoon and night. In addition to hindering conservation, too much water and watering at the wrong time of the day is harmful to your lawns.
